

ENTRANCE EXAMINATION, 2017

M.A.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND AREA STUDIES

[Field of Study Code : IRAM (234)]

Time Allowed : 3 hours

Maximum Marks : 100

- Note : (i) This Question Paper consists of two Parts, Part—A and Part—B.
- (ii) Attempt any one question (40 marks) from part—A and any three questions (20 marks each) from part—B.

PART—A

1. Give a critical account of the rise of right wing parties and Governments in Europe and North America. What are the major political challenges arising out of this?
2. Critically examine the formation and growth of Indian nationalism during the freedom struggle.
3. What are the strengths and weaknesses of the Indian economy? What do you see as its current major challenges?
4. Examine the social, political and economic impact of Indian Diaspora on the contemporary Indian society.

PART—B

5. Discuss the impact of China as an emerging global power on international relations and its implications for India.
6. Critically examine the 'Look East' policy of India. What are the major objectives of India in the ASEAN region?

7. Critically discuss current challenges and prospects of India-Australia relations.
8. Examine the Zionist movement and its impact on West Asia.
9. Discuss the limitations to European Union's policies due to its dependence on Russian gas supplies.
10. What would be the implications of Brexit to India?
11. Critically discuss the victory of Trump in US Presidential elections.
12. Examine the positive developments in India-Bangladesh relations in recent years. What are the major concessions given by India?
13. What are the major challenges and constraints faced in utilising energy resources in Central Asia?
14. Examine the Mexican response to US efforts to stop migrations from Mexico.
