» PROGRAM DESIGN

The MBA in Global Leadership is a cohort-model MBA program that can be completed in 12 or 24 months. Students complete 14 courses as well as an MBA Skills Orientation Module at the beginning of the program. The cohort model enables students to progress through the applied program together as a community of learners, providing a strong support network for students to achieve their personal and academic goals.

» ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

REDDIN

2019 MBA Graduate

"I highly recommend the MBA in Global Leadership program to anybody who is considering furthering their education. This program adds tremendous value when seeking employment and it can be achieved in only 12 months, which was a major deciding factor for me. It was a great opportunity for me to expand the skills I gained during my undergraduate degree. At the same time, I was able to learn new skills that are already helping me differentiate myself in the workplace. Since finishing my MBA, I was fortunate enough to receive offers to work both in and outside of Prince Edward Island.

Throughout the program, I have developed relationships with professors and other students that I will have for the rest of my life. I grew as a student and as a professional while preparing business case studies, presentations, and business plans. The program has pushed me to become a more well-rounded individual, which helped me when searching for employment opportunities. The professors in the program go above and beyond to ensure that you are learning the necessary skills to be able to excel in an ever-changing and complex business world."

ELIZABETH IWUNWA

2019 MBA Graduate

"I enrolled in the MBA in Global Leadership program after graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology. I wanted to learn a new way of looking at the world. I knew that having an advanced business degree would increase my ability to impact whatever field I ventured into, along with raising my earning potential.

Having a solid knowledge of how to effectively create and implement business strategies meant that I could take ownership of any task I was assigned within an organization. There is significant value in how the MBA program put this knowledge within the context of a global business environment. I particularly enjoyed the small class sizes and individualized attention my classmates and I received from our professors. They knew us by name and saw us as equals, as people who could teach them something too. I got the sense that our growth was truly their priority.

The soft skills of awareness, sensitivity, understanding, and respect of cultural differences that I gained have been instrumental in interactions with clients and colleagues, and fundamental to interpreting my organization's mission and vision today while anticipating the changes tomorrow will bring."
