(c) Coding and Decoding Problems

(Marks: 10)

In a certain code the alphabets A, B, C, ... are given ranks 1, 2, 3,.... respectively, and then n^{th} letter is coded as k^{th} letter where $1 \leq k \leq 26$ and $5n \equiv k \pmod{26}$.

For example, the 12^{th} letter L is coded as the 8^{th} letter H because $60 \equiv 8 \pmod{26}$.

For decoding reverse process is followed. Based on this answer questions from

56 to 60

کسی کوڈ میں حروف A, B, C کو بالترتیب 1, 2, 3 درجہ دیا گیا ہے۔ تب n^{th} حروف کو بطور k^{th} حروف جہاں اور

$5n \equiv k \pmod{26}$ مثال کے طور پر 12^{th} حروف کو 8^{th} کوڈ کیا گیا ہے حروف H کیوں کہ $1 \leq k \leq 26$

$60 \equiv 8 \pmod{26}$ کوڈنگ کے لیے الٹا طریقہ اختیار کیا گیا ہے۔ اس مواد کی مدد سے سوالات 56 to 60 کے جوابات لکھو

Read the following passage and answer the questions.

Holi celebrations start on the night before Holi with a Holika Dahan where people gather, perform religious rituals in front of the bonfire, and pray that their internal evil be destroyed the way Holika, the sister of the demon king Hiranyakashipu, was killed in the fire. The next morning is celebrated as Rangwali holi – a free-for-all festival of colours, where people smear each other with colours and drench each other. Water guns and water-filled balloons are also used to spray and colour each other. Anyone and everyone is fair game, friend or stranger, rich or poor, man or woman, children or elders. The frolic and fight with colours occur in open streets, open parks, outside temples and buildings. Groups carry drums and other musical instruments, go from place to place, sing and dance. People visit family, friends and foes to throw coloured powders on each other, laugh and gossip then share Holi delicacies, food and drinks. Some customary drinks include bhang (made from cannabis), which is intoxicating. In the evening, people dress up and visit friends and family.

Read the following passage and answer the questions.

The COVID-19 pandemic has led to a dramatic loss of human life worldwide and presents an unprecedented challenge to public health, food systems and world of work. The economic and social disruption caused by the pandemic is devastating; tens of millions of people are at risk of falling into extreme poverty, while the number of undernourished people, currently estimated at nearly 690 million, could increase by up to 132 million by the end of the year.

Millions of enterprises face an existential threat. Nearly half of the world's 3.3 billion global workforce are at risk of losing their livelihood. Informal economy workers are particularly vulnerable because the minority lack social protection and access to quality healthcare and have lost access to productive assets. Without the means to earn an income during lockdowns, many are unable to feed themselves and their families. For most, no income means no food, or at best, less food and less nutritious food.

Now is the time for global solidarity and support, especially with the most vulnerable in our societies, particularly in the emerging and developing world. Only together can we overcome the intertwined health and social and economic impacts of the pandemic and prevent its escalation into a protracted humanitarian and food security catastrophe with the potential loss of already achieved development gains.

We must recognise this opportunity to build back better, as noted in the Policy Brief issued by the United Nations Secretary-General. We are committed to pooling our expertise and experience to support countries in their crisis response measures and efforts to achieve the sustainable Development Goals. We need to develop long-term sustainable strategies to address the challenges facing the health and agri-foods sectors. Priority should be given to addressing underlying food security and malnutrition challenges, tackling rural poverty, in particular through more and better jobs in the rural economy, extending social protection to all, facilitating safe migration pathways and promoting the formalization of the informal economy.

Read the following passage and answer the questions.

There was a time when the late Prime Minister of India, P.V. Narasimha Rao was asked by a journalist, “Sir, why do you always answer a question with a question?” Pat came the reply “Why shouldn’t I answer a question with a question?” Such is the spontaneity of repartee that it leaves the person at the receiving end dumbfounded and speechless.

The word ‘repartee’ owes its origin to the French word repartoir which is a retort. Sir Sullivan states, “I have used the word ‘artless’ in my title for good reason, for if there be even a suggestion of premeditation about a repartee, it ceases to be what it is meant for – its power is gone... repartee is the saying of something on the spur of the moment which, by the unanimous consent of the hearers, leaves the person replied to practically destitute of speech by way of defence”.

While repartee may be considered as the peak of wit, it necessarily needs to meet two conditions. First, it’s always a rejoinder and second, it is delivered with lightning speed. The rejoinder need not always be a response to a spoken delivery and could include a response to an irritating action. Timing is the essence of repartee! It is different from ‘staircase wit’ which is when we think of a rather witty reply but only once we’ve left the door and are heading down the staircase. A repartee is typically delivered with courtesy although sometimes along with cleverness. It is distinct from an acrimonious reply but is brutal in its action. Which is why the Irish refer to it as an “insult with its dress suit on”.
