Stammering is a habit disorder linked with lack of self confidence. Basically for a child to understand a language, there are four stages. The first is learning to understand the spoken language and the second is speaking. Both of these develop around age of two years.

The third stage is speaking complex sentences, which develops at around 3rd and 4th i.e. when the child recognizes the written alphabet. In 80% of children while the 3rd & 4th stage are at play, the first two get disturbed as something new is being incorporated in the mind.

Direction: Read the following passages carefully and answer the questions that follow.

Street theatre in India is a well established ancient art form. Despite the proliferation of modern means of entertainment and communication, street theatre continues to flourish in India. Street theatre as a channel of communication has for centuries been propagating reforms by highlighting social, economic and political issues present in the society. Unlike in the olden days, its performance is no longer restricted to villages or small localities of the city. Today small group of performers including students would stage performances to mobilize public opinion or to help create or raise awareness over an issue of particular public importance.

Themes on substance abuse, AIDS awareness and domestic violence are some of the areas highlighted by contemporary street theatre. Unlike in regular drama, street dramas employ very little props and images. The human body become the main tool in which choreography, mime, dialogues, songs and slogans are extensively used.

Street theatre is one of the most intimate media. Its appeal is to the emotions leading to quick psychological impact on audiences. By being local and live they also are able to establish not only direct contact with audience, but being cost effective and flexible they are popular among all age groups.

(Stream: NCHM NTA Set A , Topic: English Language Set A , Subtopic : English Language Set A):191

Direction: Read the following passages carefully and answer the questions that follow.

One simple physical contact lies behind the formation of a star, gravitational instability. The concept is not new. Newton first perceived it late in the 17th century.

Imagine a uniform, static cloud of gas in space. Imagine then that the gas is somehow disturbed so that one small spherical region becomes a little denser than the gas around it so that the small region's gravitational field becomes slightly stronger. It now attracts more matter to it and its gravity increases further, causing it to begin to contract. As it contracts its density increases which increases the gravity even more, so that it picks up even more matter and contracts even further. The process continues until the small region of gas finally forms a gravitationally bound object.
